Hailee Steinfeld - Wrong Direction lyrics

"Wrong Direction" I don't hate you No, I couldn't if I wanted to I just hate all the hurt that you put me through And that I blame myself for letting you Did you know I already knew? Couldn't even see you through the smoke Lookin' back, I probably should have known But I just wanted to believe that you were out sleepin' alone Loved me with your worst intentions Didn't even stop to question Every time you burned me down Don't know how; for a moment it felt like heaven Loved me with your worst intentions Painted us a happy ending Every time you burned me down Don't know how; for a moment it felt like heaven And it's so gut-wrenchin' Fallin' in the wrong direction On my tip-toes But I still couldn't reach your ego Guess I was crazy to give you my body, my mind Don't know what I was thinkin' 'til now Everyone thinks that your somebody else You even convinced yourself Couldn't even see you through the smoke Lookin' back, I probably should have known But I just wanted to believe that you were out sleepin' alone Loved me with your worst intentions Didn't even stop to question Every time you burned me down Don't know how; for a moment it felt like heaven Loved me with your worst intentions Painted us a happy ending Every time you burned me down Don't know how; for a moment it felt like heaven And it's so gut-wrenchin' (Ooh, ooh) Fallin' in the wrong direction (Ooh, ooh) How did you sweep me right off my feet? Baby, I can't keep falling in the wrong direction How did you sweep me right off my feet? Right off my feet Couldn't even see you through the smoke Lookin' back, I probably should have known But I just wanted to believe that you were out sleepin' alone Loved me with your worst intentions Didn't even stop to question (Oh, no) Every time you burned me down Don't know how; for a moment it felt like heaven Loved me with your worst intentions Painted us a happy ending (Ooh) Every time you burned me down (Me down) Don't know how; for a moment, it felt like heaven And it's so gut-wrenchin' Fallin' in the wrong direction
